DETAILED ACTION

1 This action is responsive to the amendment filed on May 19, 2007.

2 The cancellation of claims 19 is acknowledged. Pending claims are 1-18, 20-25 and 27-45.

3 Claims 1-5, 9-10, 14, 16-18, 27, 32-33, 37 and 40 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Rerek Edward (EP 0 237 111) for the reasons set forth in the previous office action that mailed on 11/28/2006.

4 Claims 6-8, 11-13, 15, 20-22, 28-31, 34-36, 38-39 and 41-45 are objected to for the reasons set forth in the previous office action that mailed on 11/28/2006.

5 Claims 23-25 are allowed for the reasons set forth in the previous office action that mailed on 11/28/2006.

Response to Applicant's Arguments

6 Applicant's arguments filed 5/29/2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

With respect to the rejection of the claims under 102(b) as being anticipated by Rerek Edward (EP' 111), Applicants argue that the instant amended claim 1, recites the limitation of the cancelled claim 19, which indicated as allowed claim and thus, the applicants request a withdrawal of the rejection under 102(b).

The examiner respectfully, disagrees with the above argument because the instant amended claim 1, recites the utility of the composition for dyeing bleaching or permanently reshaping hair and this utility already recited before in claim 1 (see the amendment filed on 10/12/04), wherein the claim with such utility is rejected before under 102(b). Further, the cancelled claim 19, recites hair as a specific species of keratin fibers and not the utility of the composition.

Art Unit: 1751

Furthermore, a claim is anticipated only if each and every element as set forth in the claim is found, either expressly or inherently described, in a single prior art reference.”

Verdegeaal Bros. v. Union Oil Co. of California, 824 F.2d 628, 631, 2 USPQ2d 1051, 1053 (Fed. Cir. 1987). ”When a claim covers several structures or compositions, either generically or as alternatives, the claim is deemed anticipated if any of the structures or compositions within the scope of the claims is known in the prior art.” Brown v. 3M, 265 F.3d 1349, 1351, 60 USPQ2d 1375, 1376 (Fed. Cir. 2001).

Furthermore, the recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim. In a claim drawn to a process of making, the intended use must result in a manipulative difference as compared to the prior art. See In re Casey, 152 USPQ 235 (CCPA 1967) and In re Otto, 136 USPQ 458, 459 (CCPA 1963).

Furthermore, in order to constitute anticipatory prior art, a reference must identically disclose the claimed compound, but no utility be disclosed by the reference. In re Schoenwald, 964 F.2d 1122, 22 USPQ2d 1671 (Fed. Cir. 1992) (The application claimed compounds used in ophthalmic composition to treat dry eye syndrome. The examiner found a printed publication which disclosed the claimed compound but did not disclose a use for the compound. The court found that the claim was anticipated since the compound and a process of making it was taught by the reference. The court explained that “no utility need be disclosed for a reference to be anticipatory of a claim to an old compound.”964 F.2d at 1124, 22 USPQ2d at 1673. It is enough that the claimed compound is taught by the reference. Therefore, the rejection under 102(b) is proper and maintained.

7 THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
